February 16th –Judges 10-12, Leviticus 27:1-13 c1169-1085
BC

Following Gideon is a string of judges who hold off the wolves around them. Jephthah is a standout among them.

Jephthah is a tragic, confusing figure, banished from Gilead as illegitimate, a leader of rabble, a historian, and a man of principle. He only judged Israel for six years before his death. He was so principled that he did not recognize God’s forgiveness in his difficult vow.
